The Experts

OurEnergyPolicy.org seeks individuals substantively engaged in energy-related fields who can contribute to a meaningful energy policy dialogue. OurEnergyPolicy.org's diverse community of energy professionals comprises such individuals, and provides them the opportunity to participate in posted online Discussions each week.

To qualify as an OurEnergyPolicy.org Expert, parties must submit a short bio or resume that describes their experience in a relevant energy field, including but not limited to academia, advocacy, economics, energy research, finance, industry, law, nonprofit, power generation, technology, etc. In order to focus the Discussions on policy solutions within the framework of U.S. energy policy, OurEnergyPolicy.org ensures that participating Experts are either U.S. citizens or residents, or that their experience reflects a strong focus on U.S. energy.

If you wish to join the conversation as an Expert, please register or contact us.
